

To Whom It May Concern,

I am recommending Timy Fairfield for a position with your organization. Mr. Fairfield represented our company as an independent contractor from 2005 to 2007. He was under my immediate supervision in the Marketing Department at La Sportiva North America during this entire time. Our company is the North American distributor for the leading Italian-made brand of La Sportiva rock climbing, mountaineering, hiking, and trail running shoes.

Mr. Fairfield is a hard working, honest and insightful individual. He brought a great deal of enthusiasm, knowledge and an in-depth skill set to the tech rep/team manager position here at La Sportiva. He was responsible for a host of duties that required a great deal of organization; time management skills and detail oriented follow through.

Mr. Fairfield was also responsible for recruiting new team members and working with existing team members. A task that proves difficult when dealing with the unique personalities in the world of rock climbing. His people skills are exceptional and his speaking abilities coupled with his level of professionalism never ceased to impress me.

I greatly value the time that I have spent working with him. Presently, he is working with our company operating in the capacity of a sponsored athlete as a member of our elite level pro-ambassador climbing team.

I am sure that Mr. Fairfield will be a tremendous asset to your company and I highly recommend him for employment within your company.

Sincerely,

Jonathan Lantz
